DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-9 are pending. Claims 1-5, 8, and 9 have been amended in this communication filed 1/4/08 entered as Response After Non-Final Rejection, Request for Extension of Time, and New or Additional Drawings.
2. The Drawing objection has been overcome by Applicants' submission of corrected drawings and is hereby withdrawn.
3. The claim objection for claim 1 has been overcome by Applicants' amendment to claim 1 and is hereby withdrawn.
4. The 35 USC 112, second claim rejections for claims 2, 4, 5, and 8 as being indefinite has been overcome by Applicants' amendment to claims 2, 4, 5, and 8 and are hereby withdrawn.
5. The 35 USC 101 rejection for claims 1-9 as being directed to non-statutory subject matter has been overcome by Applicants' amendment to claims 1-9 and are hereby withdrawn.
6. Claims have been carefully reviewed since the amendments have been made and a restriction has been found as set forth here below.

Election/Restrictions

7. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claim 1-7, drawn to a method and a computer program transferring funds in a currency X to a first legal person and transferring funds in a currency Y to the second legal person, classified in class 705, subclass 35.

- II. Claims 8 and 9, drawn to a computer based system operable such that parties located in two or more jurisdictions meet their foreign currency payment obligations, the first party located in a first jurisdiction inputs details of a potential first foreign currency transaction, a second party located in a second jurisdiction inputs details of a potential second financial transaction, and determining if any transfer of funds from the first party to a payee located in the first jurisdiction satisfies in whole or part the requirement of the second party to transfer funds to the payee, classified in class 705, subclass 39.

Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because Invention I has the transferring of funds in a currency of a first legal person and the transferring of funds in a currency of the second legal person and Invention II has a computer based system operable such that parties located in two or more jurisdictions meet their foreign currency payment obligations, the first party located in a first jurisdiction inputs details of a potential first foreign currency transaction, a second party located in a second jurisdiction inputs details of a potential second financial transaction, and determining if any transfer of funds from the first party to a payee located in the first jurisdiction satisfies in whole or part the requirement of the second party to transfer funds to the payee. The subcombination has separate utility such as Invention I can be used for funds transfer not only to a person in the United States to a person in a foreign country but from one state to another in the United States .or one country to another overseas and Invention II has separate utility such as any transaction involving a party in a first jurisdiction and a party in a second jurisdiction and the transferring of funds from one jurisdiction to another jurisdiction.

The examiner has required restriction between combination and subcombination inventions. Where applicant elects a subcombination, and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;

- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;
- (e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
